

JUDGE WITH UNIQUE CHARACTER IS DEAD IN WEST VIRGINIA

John Crutchfield, Original Character in Legal Annals

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 4.—The death here recently of Justice John Crutchfield removed one of the most original characters in American legal annals. Justice of the Richmond police court for 22 years, Judge Crutchfield enjoyed perhaps the widest reputation of any man holding similar office.

Justice Crutchfield was born in Richmond, September 20, 1844, and was educated in the public schools here. Possessor of an abundance of natural wit and peculiar understanding of human nature, he was immensely popular. Magazine stories were written of him and stage impersonations were made of the celebrated "Old John," as he was sometimes called.

In the "old days" as the anti-dry period was called, Justice Crutchfield knew all of the "old timers," and when they began to appear on his docket too often, he would have them called before him and ask:

"Guilty or not guilty?" He knew his man every time and when the prisoner would begin to mumble and minimize his offense, "Ten dollars or ten days" would end the argument.

Years ago there was a character known here as "Jimmy Jones." Reports were that "Jimmy" and Justice Crutchfield served together in the Confederate army, but this never was confirmed. "Jimmy" would appear before the justice at least once a week and when his trembling form would saunter up this dialogue would usually follow:

"Good morning, Mr. Jones."

"Good morning, Judge."

"What is the matter this time, Mr. Jones?"

"Feeling a little sick last night, and I rather expect I got a little too much liquor, Justice."

"So?"

"Yes sir, a little too much, your honor."

"Jimmy, I have been your friend a long time. The last time you were here I told you that if you came any more this year I would make it a year, but you and I can compromise this matter. Now what is the best you can do?"

Justice would say he thought ten days would be about right, but Justice John would hold out for six months, and ask Jimmy to get another figure. Jimmy's refusal to compromise further would bring from the judge the remark that "if you won't make it a month, I will have to let you go with fifteen days," whereupon "Jimmy" would threaten to "quit coming to this court." Usually he was released when he became sober.

Perhaps Justice Crutchfield was at his best when his courtroom was filled with his "lighters." Then he would add many facetious touches to the day's dispensation of justice.

Albuquerque Man Falls From Train At Olathe, Kansas

(From Olathe Register)

About 2 o'clock on the morning of November 22 a young man who later gave his name as J. Whitman, of Albuquerque, N. M., staggered into the yard of Julius Moll, north of Olathe and asked for help.

His left arm hung crookedly at his side, his clothes were torn and he seemed bewildered from head to foot. He talked incoherently of having fallen from a train, Sheriff Reed was called and the man was brought to Olathe where he was given treatment by Dr. C. W. Jones, who found that his arm was broken and that he was severely bruised and scratched.

A few hours later he recovered enough to tell his story. He said that he was a passenger on the California limited and had gone to the observation platform for a smoke, where he had fallen from the train. The crystal of his watch was broken and the hand indicated 12 o'clock as the hour it was stopped. The man's supposition is that the man must have laid on or at the side of the track for a time, as the Moll residence is not far from the Santa Fe right of way.

Whitman said that he was on his way from Albuquerque to Chicago. He continued on his trip the next day.

"Was it a cigarette you were smoking?" Whitman was asked.

"Yes," he cheerfully admitted, "it was a cigarette that caused my fall."

Engineers to Elect Officers at Meeting Tomorrow Evening

The annual meeting and banquet of the Albuquerque chapter of the American Association of Engineers will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at 7 o'clock tonight. At this meeting officers for the ensuing year will be elected. A referendum vote for the increase of annual dues from $10 to $15 will be taken. Increase in dues is found necessary since the enormous amount of work being done by the association requires a greater expenditure of money than the present dues will permit of. The candidates for officers are as follows: For president, N. J. Gladding, Edmund Ross; for secretary-treasurer, C. A. Long, H. P. Martin; for vice president, H. O. Duerr, E. S. Wheeler; for members board of managers, H. P. Robinson, Arno Huning, P. Cameron, G. F. Leslie.

The Albuquerque chapter of the American Association of Engineers now has a membership of over forty and the association is doing good work in shaping sentiment for needed public work and other civic matters. M. L. Fox will give an address on Central America at the annual meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. and it is expected that all of the members of the local chapter as well as engineers not yet affiliated with the association will make it a point to be present at this meeting.

Judge Indicted

CLEVELAND—Judge W. H. McGinnon (shown above), chief justice of the Cleveland city courts, has been indicted on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the killing of Harold C. Kazy. Kazy was shot following an automobile ride and drinking party in which McGinnon, Kazy and John W. Joyce participated. Joyce was first tried and acquitted. Kazy had told police before he died that Joyce fired the shot. In his own defense Joyce testified that he did not shoot Kazy and that McGinnon was present. McGinnon pleads not guilty and says he left the party before the killing. Testimony of Miss May B. Neely (shown below) is believed to be largely responsible for McGinnon's indictment. She says she had been requested to locate him the evening of the murder and that she was watching McGinnon and the others when the fatal shot was fired.

Even Larrazoio Could Not Revoke Pardon Of the Villistas

BY STAFF CORRESPONDENT

SANTA FE, Dec. 2.—The acting governor of New Mexico is without power or authority to revoke any pardon that has been issued. It is held by O. A. Anderson, attorney general, in an opinion that has been prepared for Lieutenant Governor Benjamin F. Fankley, who is now acting governor. The opinion goes so far as to hold that even Governor Larrazoio himself could not revoke this pardon for the Villista riders, after that pardon had been executed and delivered to the warden of the penitentiary or to the prisoners. The text of the opinion follows:

"In reply to your request for an opinion concerning your power to revoke certain pardons heretofore made by Governor O. A. Larrazoio, advice that I have made a thorough and complete search of the authorities on this subject, and all of the opinion that since these pardons have been executed and delivered to the warden of the penitentiary you have no power or authority to revoke the same. The authorities go so far as to convince me that even Governor Larrazoio himself cannot revoke a pardon executed by himself after the same has been delivered to the prisoner or to the officer who holds such prisoner."

"I have viewed this proposition simply as a cold-blooded proposition of law and if there were any doubt in the matter would advise you differently so that the protestations against these pardons would have a better opportunity to test the matter in the courts. However, there is no question as to the law on the subject concerning your right to revoke the pardons and this office could not, and will not, advise you to do an act where all precedent and authority clearly shows you have no power or authority to perform such an act."
